

Social Media

Want a greater ROI for your service award program?
We'll provide it through the use of social media sharing features. It couldn't be simpler.

Encourage your employees to share with their friends on Facebook and Twitter that you've recognized them with the best gift ever! Not only is this excellent (and free) promotion of your good will towards your employees, it also invites others to share in the milestone. Friends can recognize their peers' achievement by liking the status or commenting and posting a congratulatory message.

Everybody wins!
